APTAEducation.org Classified Ads

Job Title: Director School Of Physical Therapy

Organization:	Touro University Nevada	Contact Name:	Andrew Priest
Contact Phone:	702-777-3120	Contact Fax:	702-777-1758
Contact E-mail:	andrew.priest@tun.touro.edu	Contact Web Site:	http://www.tun.touro.edu/
Date Ad Started:	January 15, 2013	Expires:	April 15, 2013

Director - School of Physical Therapy

Description:

Touro University Nevada, College of Health and Human Services, School of Physical Therapy is seeking a 12-month full-time Director for the School Physical Therapy. This position is open due to planned retirement of the founding Director and is available July 1, 2013. An earlier start date is negotiable.

Primary responsibilities of the full-time appointment are to provide leadership and direction for the day to day activities of the physical therapy educational programs. The Director is responsible for ensuring compliance with local, state, and national accreditation/licensure for the School of Physical Therapy and coordinating all strategic planning and development activities for physical therapy. Fiscal management duties include budget development, oversight, and approval of expenditures for the program. The director is responsible for coordination of faculty development, student recruitment, admission, and retention, and curriculum review. The individual will be expected to provide instruction in his/her area of expertise and maintain a scholarly agenda which meets the requirement for maintenance of rank and CAPTE expectations.

Minimum Requirements:

Qualified applicants should have a post-professional doctoral degree (PhD, EdD, DSc) and be eligible for senior faculty status. A minimum of five years of progressive faculty and administrative experience, demonstrated expertise in a curricular area and a documented record of scholarly activity are required. The selected individual must be eligible for Nevada License as a physical therapist and secure full active licensure within six months of employment.

Additional Information:

Touro University Nevada offers a highly competitive salary and generous benefits to eligible employees including: health and optional dental/vision coverage; life insurance, long-term disability, a tax-deferred retirement plan, tuition benefits, three weeks of paid vacation the first year; numerous paid holidays, and more. Representatives of the institution will be available for informal discussion of this position at the Combined Sections Meeting in San Diego, please contact 702-777-3051 to arrange a confidential meeting.

Touro University Nevada is located in Henderson, Nevada, which is contiguous with and is located generally southeast of Las Vegas. Henderson is a family-friendly community with great schools, a wide variety of shopping and dining, and great neighborhoods. The Las Vegas area offers a vast number of activities, along with plenty of sunshine and outdoor recreation.

To Apply:

Qualified applicants should forward a letter/email of interest and current vitae to:

Address: Director SOPT Search Committee

Touro University Nevada, College of Health and Human Services

874 American Pacific Drive

Henderson, NV 89014

Email: andrew.priest@tun.touro.edu

Applicants should fully describe qualifications and experience, since the initial review will serve to evaluate applicants based on documented, relevant qualifications and professional work experience. Position(s) open until filled. Touro University Nevada is an Equal Opportunity Employer.