- PhD or equivalent post-professional doctoral degree, or degree in progress
- Eligible for PT licensure in Massachusetts
- Experience or interest in educational administration and curriculum development
- Commitment to innovative educational models, including interdisciplinary education and hybrid learning technology
- Demonstrated leadership and communication skills
- A record of and commitment to scholarship
- A record of excellence in teaching

FACULTY WILL BE AVAILABLE AT COMBINED SECTIONS MEETING TO MEET WITH PROSPECTIVE APPLICANTS. Contact Marianne Beninato, DPT, PhD, Chair of Search Committee via email at mbeninato@mghihp.edu for further information or while at CSM.

Department of Physical Therapy:

The Department of Physical Therapy offers both professional and post-professional programs. The professional program, accredited by CAPTE, leads to a DPT degree, and is well respected for its visionary curriculum. The post-professional curriculum consists of several on-site and distance education options for the experienced physical therapist including a Master of Science degree for International Students, Certificate of Advanced Study and Clinical Residency in Orthopedic Physical Therapy and Manual Therapy. A developing interdisciplinary PhD program and international activities are new areas of growth. The programs' highly respected faculty are recognized for their expertise as educators, researchers, and master clinicians and for their involvement in professional activities. The Institute has a diverse student body with national and international representation.

Description:

Setting:

The Institute, founded in 1977, is an autonomous graduate educational institution accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges. The Institute offers innovative interdisciplinary graduate programs in Communication Sciences and Disorders, Nursing, and Physical Therapy. The Institute is an academic affiliate of the Massachusetts General Hospital and a member of the Partners HealthCare System. Close ties to clinical and academic institutions in the Boston area contribute to a rich and diverse environment for research and scholarship, excellence in clinical practice, and exciting teaching opportunities. The Institute is located in the historic Charlestown Navy Yard, which also houses a major research presence of the Massachusetts General Hospital.
